MITHO

Colour touch screen video receiver, wall-mount installation

Mitho is an innovative video receiver with a colour touch screen which offers a host of hi-tech features. The 4.3" LCD touch screen is in 16:9 widescreen format for full-screen navigation using menus that require no visible keys. Navigating through the various menus is simple and intuitive, using colour codes for immediate association of functions to different colours. Mitho is much more than just a video receiver: when connected to Bpt's "X1" two-wire system, Mitho provides a series of innovative functions including image zooming, voice/video messaging and text messages (from the porter, for example) as well as integrated handset and hands-free audio functions.

- The world's first touchscreen video receiver
- Voice/video messaging mail
- Image zooming
- Porter switchboard

Mitho SB: colour video porter switchboard

The Mitho SB is a colour video porter switchboard system for table-top installation, featuring a 4.3" LCD touch screen in 16:9 format and available in Fusion black or Ice white. Like all the Mitho receivers, it offers simple, easy to learn browsing, based on colour coding that makes it easier to match the functions to the colours, and it has image zoom/pan functions, a video answering machine and audio via a handset or hands free. It is supplied with the elegant, practical table-top support made up of an attractively shaped base in robust 3 mm steel, whose design perfectly matches the receiver's, and an adapter that is available in Ice white or Fusion black.
